Three—Just Three Strategies to Spiral Up Your Business Profit

About Will Ezell:

Will has started and developed several businesses in his career and has sold them for millions of dollars of profit. He has also helped numerous corporate clients achieve significant bottom-line profit gains and to sustain those gains over time.

Recently, Will has decided to work with larger numbers of smaller businesses so that he can share his experience and knowledge with a greater number of people. Will has a goal to share his abilities to make businesses grow with owners, managers, and sales people who truly want to be a part of the recovery of our economy and who are willing to listen, learn, and take action.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

ABI-N is proud to announce that it supports the Community Covenant, a National program created to foster support for our active military and veterans and their families. Over 700 city mayors and half of the governors in the country have been signed into the program. All of these community leaders have made the commitment to create special events and initiatives to pro-actively provide opportunities for citizens to participate in donating time, energy, and resources to help our military heroes get the support that they deserve.

The Community Covenant also includes promoting awareness of how important military recruiting is. Our country has shown over the last few decades that a volunteer military does work better than a draft system. To continue working, the volunteer system needs to be fortified by communities that support the process of honoring the military and providing services that supplement what the government is not able to provide.

When President Barack Obama was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize recently, he said that he said "This award -- and the call to action that comes with it -- does not belong simply to me or my administration; it belongs to you, the men and women of America, who have dared to hope and have worked so hard to make our world a little better." What better way to answer this call to action than to accept the Community Covenant and to commit your support to our active military and our veterans and their families so that in years to come, young men and women will be eager to explore the possibilities of serving their country.

ABI-N is revising its Vision and Mission Statement to pro-actively provide the environment and the format for members to participate in supporting the Community Covenant. Business Center Director positions will be available to veterans and we will welcome veterans to promote their businesses or their professions in the ABI-N system. We will also offer free membership to any military Recruiters and we will provide information services and resume posting for veterans.

If you have any ideas on how ABI-N and its members can participate in any events or programs to support our military please contact Art Moffa at 813-404-3570 or send an email to art@artmoffa.com.

The Sack Lunches

I put my carry-on in the luggage Compartment and sat down in my assigned seat. It was going to be a long flight.. 'I'm glad I have a Good book to read Perhaps I will get a short nap,' I thought.

Just before take-off, a line of soldiers came down the aisle and filled all the vacant seats, totally surrounding me. I decided to start a conversation. "Where are you headed?" I asked the soldier seated nearest to me.

'Petawawa. We'll be there for two weeks for special training, and then we're being deployed to Afghanistan

After flying for about an hour, an announcement was made that sack lunches were available for five dollars. It would be several hours before we reached the east, and I quickly decided a lunch would help pass the time..

As I reached for my wallet, I overheard soldier ask his buddy if he planned to buy lunch. 'No, that seems like a lot of money for just a sack lunch. Probably wouldn't be worth five bucks. I'll wait till we get to base '

His friend agreed.

I looked around at the other Soldiers. None were buying lunch. I walked to the back of the plane and handed the flight attendant a Fifty dollar bill.

'Take a lunch to all those soldiers.' She grabbed my arms and squeezed tightly. Her eyes wet with tears, she thanked me. 'My son was a soldier in Iraq; it's almost like you are doing it for him.'

Picking up ten sacks, she headed up the aisle to where the soldiers were seated. She stopped at my seat and asked, 'Which do you like Best - beef or chicken?'

'Chicken,' I replied, wondering why she asked. She turned and went to the front of plane, returning a minute later with a dinner plate from first class. 'This is your thanks.'

After we finished eating, I went again to the back of the plane, heading for the rest room. A man stopped me. 'I saw what you did. I want to be part of it. Here, take this.' He handed me twenty-five dollars.

Soon after I returned to my seat, I saw the flight captain coming down the aisle, looking at the aisle numbers as he walked, I hoped he was not looking for me, but noticed he was looking at the numbers only on my side of the plane. When he got to my row he stopped, smiled, held out his hand, and said, 'I want to shake your hand.'

Quickly unfastening my seatbelt I stood and took the Captain's hand. With a booming voice he said, 'I was a soldier and I was a military pilot. Once, someone bought me a lunch. It was an act of kindness I never forgot.' I was embarrassed when applause was heard from all of the passengers.

Later I walked to the front of the plane so I could stretch my legs. A man who was seated about six rows in front of me reached out his hand, wanting to shake mine. He left another twenty-five dollars in my palm..

When we landed I gathered my belongings and started to deplane. Waiting just inside the airplane door was a man who stopped me, put something in my shirt pocket, turned, and walked away without saying a word. Another twenty-five dollars!

Upon entering the terminal, I saw the soldiers gathering for their trip to the base. I walked over to them and handed them seventy-five dollars. 'It will take you some time to reach the base. It will be about time for a sandwich. God bless you.'

Ten young men left that flight Feeling the love and respect of their fellow travelers. As I walked briskly to my car, I whispered a prayer for their safe return. These soldiers were giving their all for our country. I could only give them a couple of meals. It seemed so little...

A veteran is someone who, at one point in his life, wrote a blank check made payable to 'The United States of America ' for an amount of 'up to and including My life.'

That is Honor, and there are way too many people in this country who no longer understand it. May God give you the strength and courage to pass this along to your email buddy list—I JUST DID.
